

airBaltic to Operate Geneva, Tampere, Gothenburg Flights Year-Round

Riga. The Latvian airline airBaltic announces its plans for the winter season that will begin in late October. airBaltic will continue to fly to Geneva, Tampere, Gothenburg also during the winter as well as re-introduce popular skiing destinations of Salzburg, Verona and Poprad in the High Tatras Mountains.

airBaltic has also significantly improved service for the winter of 2017 by increasing frequencies from Riga to London, Hamburg and Prague. A more convenient schedule for flights to Warsaw will be available, with new morning and evening flights on weekdays.

Wolfgang Reuss, Senior Vice President Network Management of airBaltic: “We introduced direct flights to Geneva, Tampere and Gothenburg only this summer, however, the passenger demand for these routes has already been high, making it viable for us to fly to these cities year-round. With addition of Abu Dhabi to our route map, we are offering the best flexibility to, from and within the Baltic states for business and leisure travellers alike.”

Starting from October 29 airBaltic will operate the Riga – Abu Dhabi route four times weekly with the brand new Bombardier CS300 aircraft. Etihad Airways will be its codeshare partner on the route.

A complete schedule of airBaltic flights can be found on the company's homepage at www.airbaltic.com.
