Slovenia among the safest countries to visit in 2020

An annual Travel Risk Map for 2020 has been released by International SOS. The safest countries are Denmark, Finland, Greenland, Iceland, Norway, Luxembourg, Switzerland and Slovenia.

Safety plays a major role in selecting holiday destinations and travel industry is much aware of this. For this very reason, the annual reports on safety, such as the Travel Risk Map composed by International SOS are very much awaited.

For 2020, the safest countries to travel to are mostly located in the northern hemisphere — and Slovenia is among them (next to Denmark, Finland, Greenland, Iceland, Norway, Luxembourg and Switzerland).The colour-coordinated map has five categories, ranging from "insignificant" to "extreme" medical and travel security risks. This includes infectious diseases and political violence.

Further information is available here. If you plan to visit Slovenia, check out some of the very useful information on the Slovenian webpage.